MEMO FROM THE PUBLISHER

Dear Colleague,

Are you looking for innovative ways to teach your special students about science? Are you searching for effective, complete classroom materials to enable ALL your students to pass standardized tests — with No Child Left Behind?

Project Special Education has developed programs to meet these goals. The programs can help you because they are:

- Content rich — so you'll be able to give your students all the vital information they need to pass standardized competency tests.
- Reinforcement-oriented with extra exercises — so you can help your students retain the information they need to succeed.
- Exciting to read — so you can keep student interest high throughout the course.
- Well-structured and formatted — so your students can easily work on their own.
- Clearly written — so you can teach the course confidently even if you don't have a background in that subject.

Please take a few minutes to review the special features of PROJECT EXPLORE. These texts could be a great beginning for a successful year of teaching.

Sincerely,

Paul Post
